Like Nothing Else!

Be it Central, Southwest

Southeast or even Northwest, still

Northeast High School is

Like Nothing Else!

When a Northeast student ends his/her high school career, he/she has not only mastered the educational requirements needed to be a productive leader, but he/she has also grown as an individual who is capable and able to make a difference.

The influence that the teachers and the administration have on the students is much greater than academics, they encourage them to be more than clever writers and fluent in speech. Each student must accept the Northeast legacy: I can, I shall, and I will make a difference.

For 20 years students from Northeast have uplifted that legacy and proved to Macon, that be it Central, Southwest, Southeast or even Northwest, When it comes to an education, there's Nothing Like Northeast!-Robert Stevenson

Mr. David Dillard.

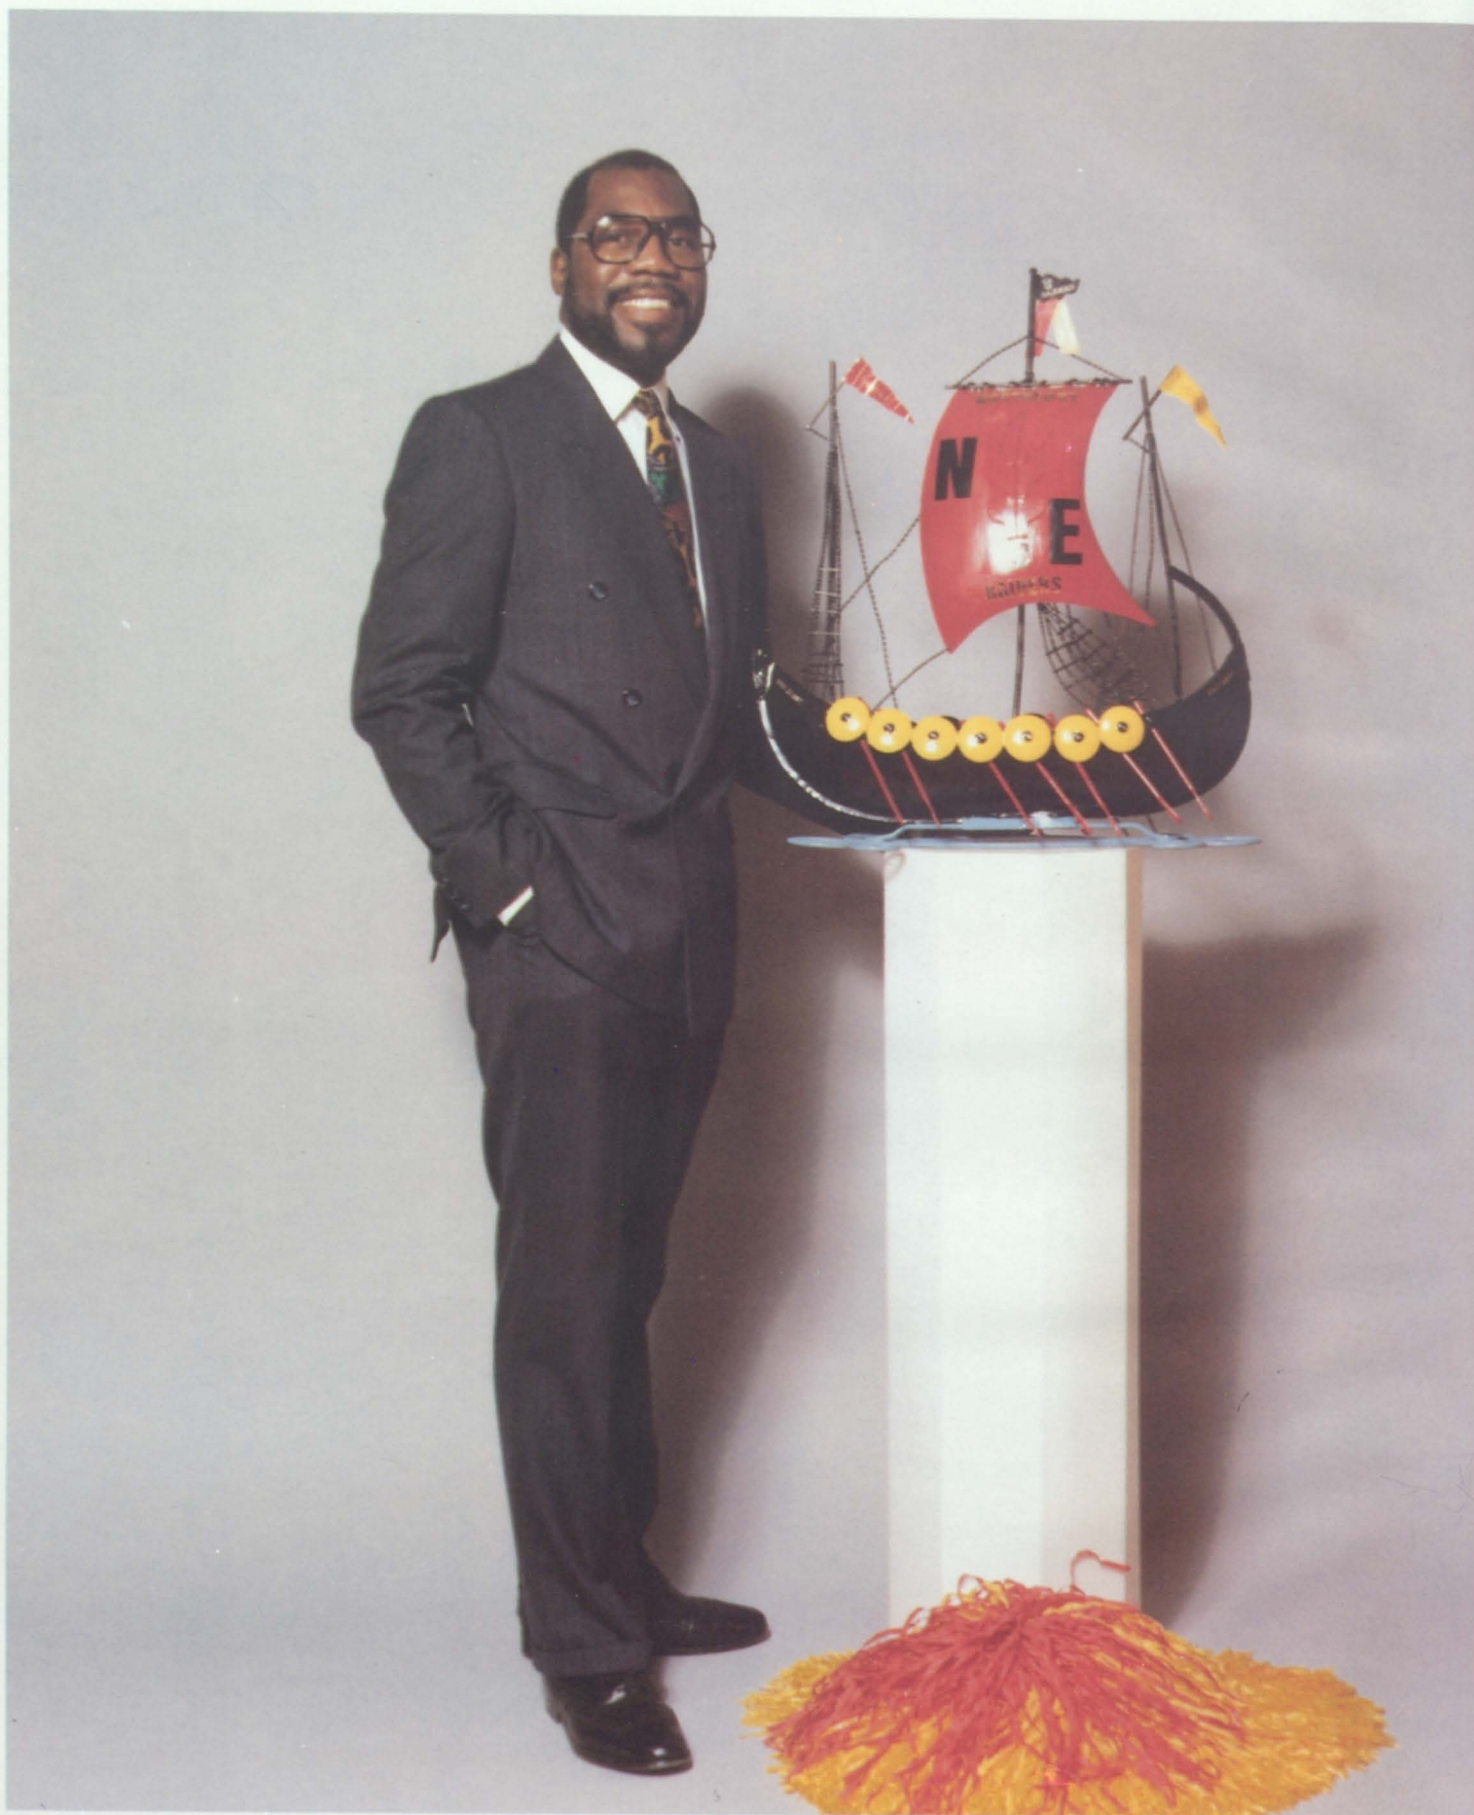

Students recall summer fun as they file through the doors for the start of a new year.

Nothing Else Like Him

Mr. David Dillard.

Top: Mr. David Dillard relaxes at home.

Paperwork is a big part of being complex principal. Mr. David Dillard became the complex principal in 1989.

What would you say to a man who in the last two years restored the pride and spirit of one of the best high schools in Macon — a man who not only attended, graduated, and served as principal but also a man who is a friend to 1,125 students? What would you say to this man?

The Valhalla '91 staff would like to say thank you. If it were not for this man, it would not have been possible to publish the last two editions of the Valhalla.

Words can not express what this man means to the students of Northeast High School. He has given us a special place, a place where the hearts, minds, and souls of all of us, have risen up and lived out the true meaning of what it is like to be a student here at Northeast.

Mr. David Dillard, for the many things you have done, for your guidance, your loyalty, and for your love we admire you.

As editor of the Valhalla '91 and on behalf of my staff and Northeast High School, it is my honor to dedicate this 19th edition of the Valhalla to you.

Mr. Dillard you have served as a capable and loyal leader. Always lead us, always watch us, never let us fail, because truly there is no one Else Like You!-Robert Stevenson.

Northeast High School.....

For the past 20 years, these words have meant a variety of things to those who called her home.

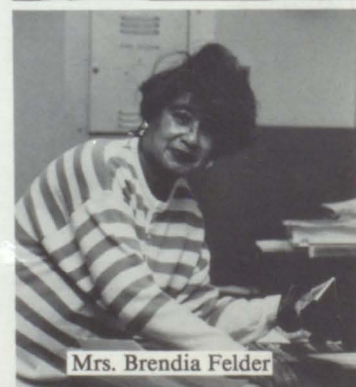

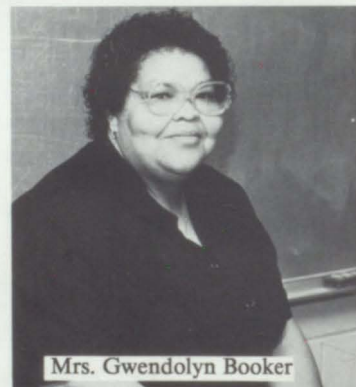

To the first class, in 1971, Northeast High meant change and mixed emotions. It meant the by-product of a county wide desegregation plan which brought the spirit of the three great schools of old -Peter G. Appling, H.S. Lasseter and Mark Smith high schools- into a mighty fold called Northeast High School.

To the classes of the early eighty's, Northeast High School meant increasing minority enrollment as the neighborhood patterns constantly changed.

To the class of ninety-one, the ideas of the three great schools of old are forever carved into the hearts, minds, and souls of us all.

For Northeast High we love you so, Loyalty Prevails!!- Robert Stevenson.

NORTHEAST HIGH SCHOOL

Founded 1970

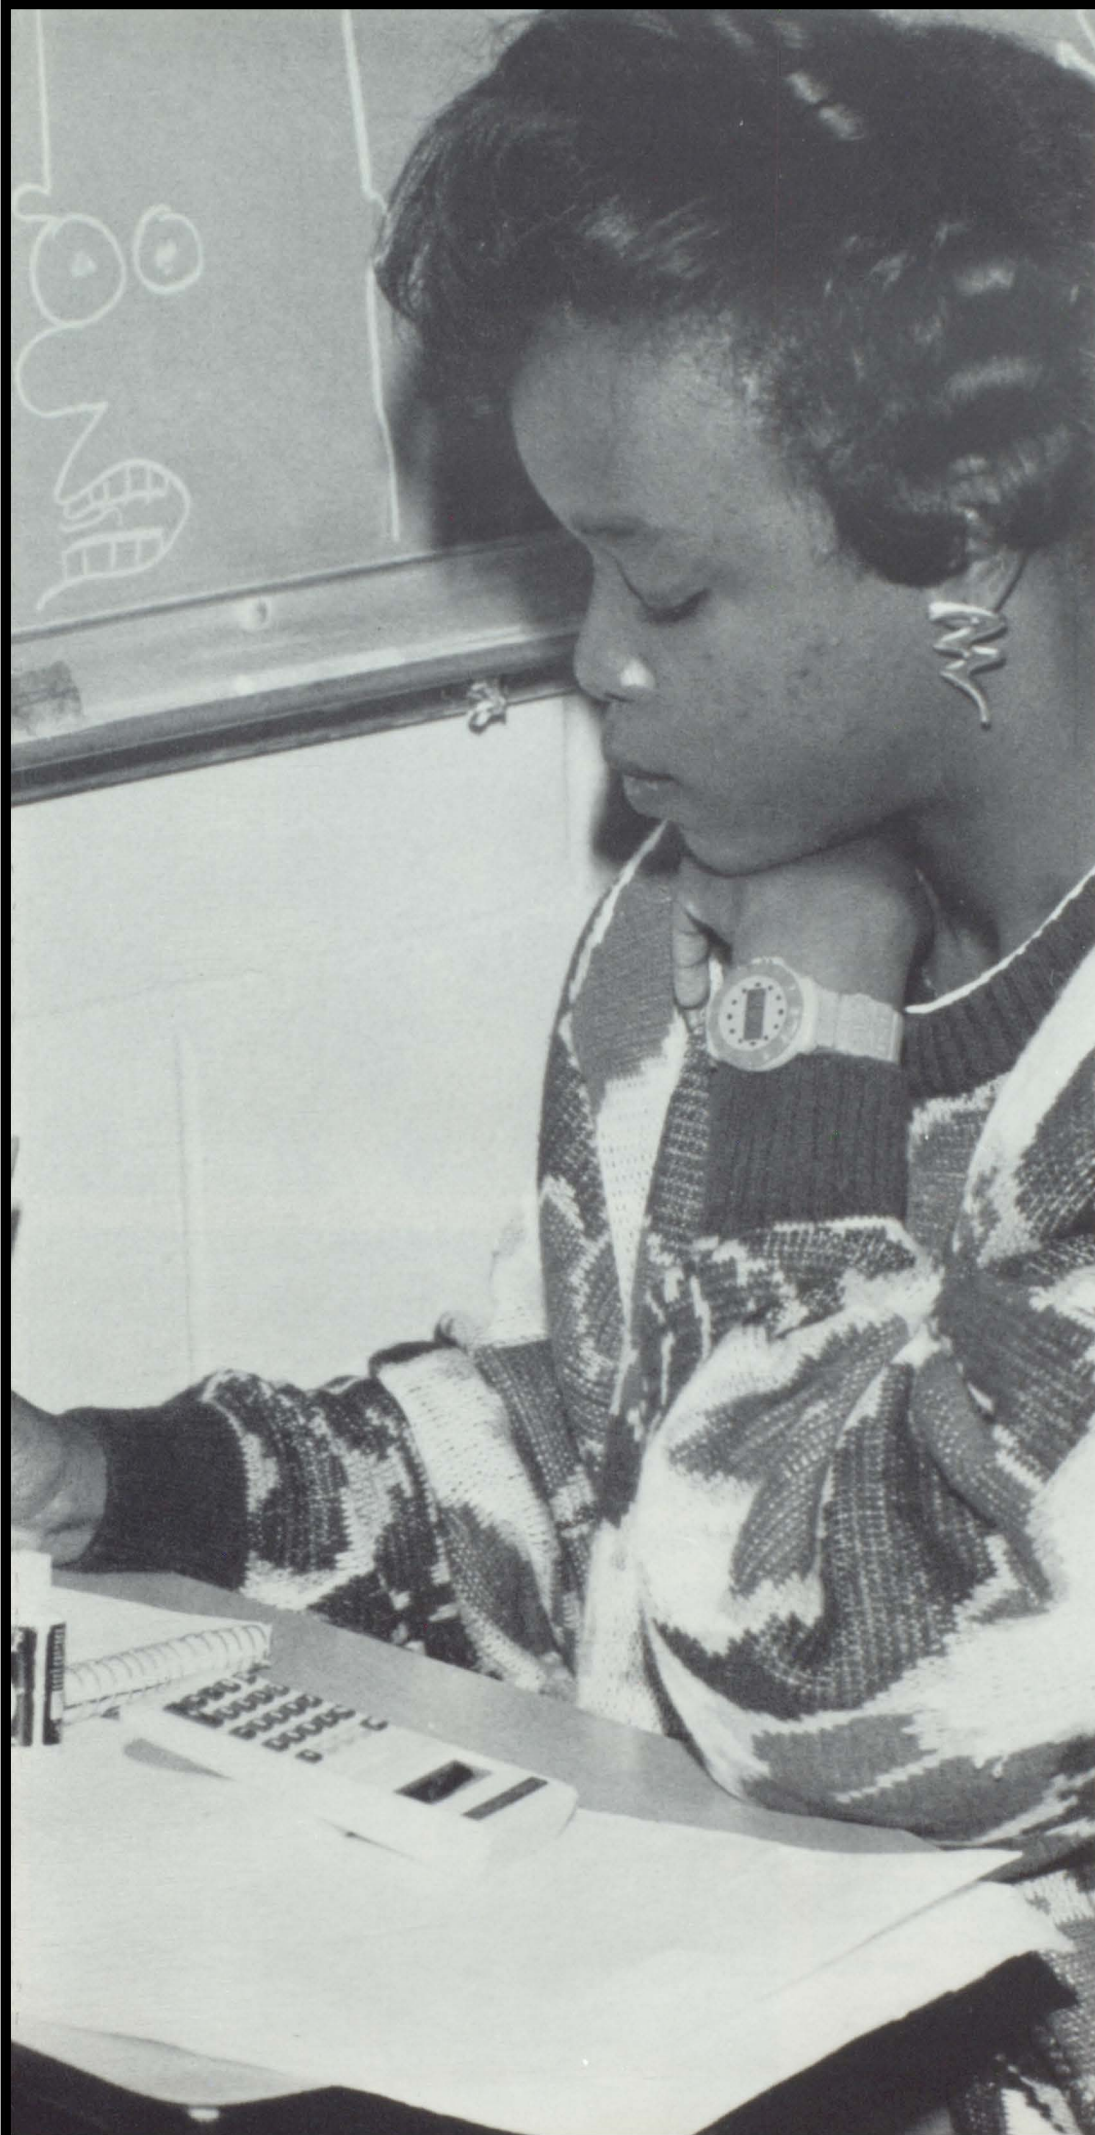

The life of a student is carefree and fun during and after the 6 hours a day spent in school. A student's life is filled with many friends which brings about many adventures. Between the 5 minute class change, rush to the Friday football games keep Raiders and Raiderettes on their toes and ready for whatever life may bring forth. There is Nothing Else Like the life of a Raider!-Tomekia PERtillo.

It was a new year

As school buses and cars pulled into the campus, it was clearly evident that a new school year had begun. Freshmen could be heard agreeing that finally being 'on the hill' was better than being at Appling Middle School.

Sophomores were just glad that they wouldn't be called freshmen any more. "It's great finally being a sophomore," said sophomore Altovise Driskell.

Juniors were already thinking, wait until next year. "I'm glad to finally be a junior,"

said junior Ramona Rhoden."

Seniors had mixed feelings because this was the start of their final year in high school. "I'm glad to come back to Northeast because it's my last year and I'll be free, free at last," said senior Juwana Anderson.

The General impression was that everyone was happy to be back at Northeast because truly, there's Nothing Else Like It! — Chauncey Reid

Senior Robert Stevenson checks the camera, during a football game, to see if it's working correctly.

Clowning around on lunchbreak are Kenneth Snead, Shun Quainter, Curtis Freeman, Bert Thomas, Edward Timely, and Katina Crawford.

Mrs. Brenda Felder, guidance counselor, goes over some important facts with a freshman English class.

Having someone to talk to or be with is just

Being with a good friend

People seem to class themselves in certain groups all the time and they consider this group their "friends". There are many ways to choose your friends, but the best way, in some opinions, is destiny. Johnthan Rozier, Travis Chavers, Couri Jordan, and Rico Council are best friends. "Each one of us shares a common bond that unites us as one," said Rico Council.

Johnathan said, "I have had friends before, but not like the three I have now. I think good friends are brought together by destiny or fate and that is what brought us together and anyone else that has a best friend."

This is true, but some people just choose their friends and simply have opinions about others.

Senior Michael Copeland said, "To me, a friend is someone who will be there for you when you need them, someone you can trust but you also have to do the same for them."

Trust is the thing everyone wants in a friend. A lot of teens don't really have best friends just close chilling buddies.

Sometimes this friend can also be your closest relative such as the friendship between junior Tamera Jelks and her sister. "I don't really have a best friend, but my sister, Porcia, is really close to me," said Tamera.

"We've been best friends since third grade," said juniors Tameka Green and Tuwanna Maynard. "What brought us together was our mothers."

Freshman Eric George said, "My brother, Ephraim, is my closest friend. We are so close I'm willing to do anything reasonable for him!"

But, do you ever begin to look down the road ahead and see if you plan to be best friends forever? For instance, when you walk down the aisle after graduation, do you think you will remain friends?

Shervita Bryant said, "I feel as if I share a timeless bond with my friends."

Junior Chelsea May said, "We will remain friends, but, I'm not sure about best friends, because we will not be attending the same college."

One last opinion on friends was given by senior Darrel Whipfel. "I think a good friend is someone you can depend on and when you really need them by your side, you can just turn around and they will be there. To me that is a true friend."

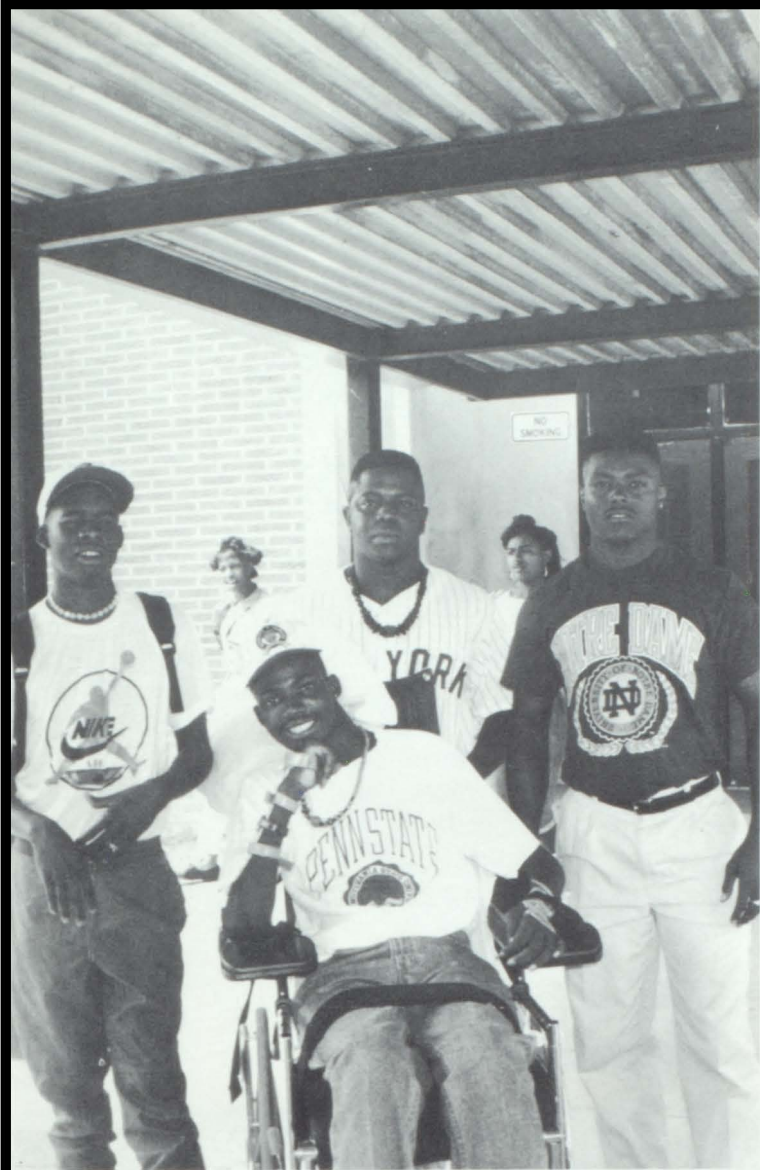

So, you still ask what a friend really is? Well, they come in different shapes, sizes, colors, and fashions, but in all everybody is considered someone's friend. LaTanya Singleton

Homecoming Week

Homecoming '90 will go down in history as one of the best homecoming weeks Northeast has ever had.

This year students were out on Monday as the state fair rolled into town. Tuesday was College Jersey Day, Thursday was Golden Oldies/Kiddie Day, and Friday the day of the pep-rally, was School Color Day.

This year's spirit chain contest was another enthusiastic race but the seniors pulled it off again as they collected over 1,700 links to win. The sophomores came in second followed by the juniors, then the freshmen.

A coronation, the first in the school's history, was held that Thursday to announce all winners except Mr. and Miss Northeast, who would be announced at the game on Friday.-Shawnda Flagg

"Buy me this, get me that, everybody has it!" I'm sure this is the sound everyone hears when it comes to fashion. Everybody wants it, everybody says it's cool and it's just something you've got to have.

A lot of the things that are really in this year are out of the ordinary, such as African "funk" beads. They are really fashionable and seem to go with everything. Seniors Omar Spradley and Spencer Rouse say, "The beads are the most popular fashion we know. Fashion is a way of expressing yourself." Some other fashions are starter jackets, loafers, and duck head pants.

Although junior Florrie Williams has a different idea on fashion it seems to be boiling down to the same thing. She says, "Most people dress the way they feel." This is a common statement and it also expresses how you want to look. Junior David Golden says, "My favorite fad is to wear Levi jeans and Nike shoes with a t-shirt. This is just one of the many comfortable ways to dress and just look laid back." He also says, "Fashion makes a statement about you."

Fashion is a fad and every year it changes and sometimes it stays the same, but it seems to make a different impression every time. It all depends on how you wear it and what you look like in it, but no one does it better than Northeast.-Jessica Rudin

The 90's are well on the way and the school year is in full swing. Students are seeing first hand that they must apply themselves in order to get the job done correctly, efficiently, and with accuracy.

Students are winning the war on academics and they are standing in line waiting to receive their purple hearts. With the help of capable teachers, a great staff and an excellent administration, students are able to endure school hours with no problems at all. Each student is trying to succeed and fit in academically and socially.

Simply the best

When it comes to academics

Northeast is dedicated to giving students a quality education. Our curriculum consists of three major educational levels: College-Prep, for those students who are college bound; Vocational, for the more vocational students; and General for the more basic students.

Here at Northeast, academics is a very important part of the total educational process. Unlike some schools, Northeast offers classes above the regular high school honor level. Advanced Placements (AP) classes are offered in biology, American History, calculus, English and with (H) physics.

Northeast encourages all of its students to excel in both athletics and academics. This year's football team under the leadership of Coach Steve Edwards brought fear into the eyes of all their opponents making our program one of the best in the region. Last year Northeast captured one Golden Eagle and three honorable mentions, more than any other school in middle Georgia. The GOLDEN STAR, VALHALLA and SALMAGUNDI have won numerous awards making the journalism department here at Northeast one of the best in the state.

The faculty consists of a number of impressive scholars who are sensitive to those who seek to learn. The Northeast faculty shares two common goals: the concern of the students' future and the love of teaching.

Here at Northeast academics is our top concern and our goal because academics at Northeast is truly Like Nothing Else.-Robert Stevenson.

Organizations

Northeast High School is composed of many school related organizations. The organizations are divided and based on academic studies. Mu Alpha Theta, Math Team and the Math Club make up the area of math.

In science, there is the Science Bowl Team and the Science Club. In the foreign language area the Spanish, French and Latin clubs speak in their own tongues. On the home front our language, English has such branches as the Literary Team, and in journalism we have the GOLDEN STAR newspaper, SALMAGUNDI magazine, VAL-HALLA yearbook and Quill & Scroll-National Honor Society for Journalist.

Other than academics, Northeast can proudly boast of a variety of extracurricular activities.

Honor Society

Head of the Class

There is a certain amount of prestige to be gained by being a member of the National Honor Society. An invitation to join means that a special academic standard has been met. Seniors must maintain a 3.8 GPA; juniors, a 3.9 GPA; sophomores, a 4.0 GPA.

Besides recognizing academie excellence, this organization is also committed to providing services to its school and community. The members supervise the School Honor Roll for the principal. The National Honor Society is advised by Mrs. LaMerle Loveland. - Margo King.

Mu Alpha Theta

Sum it Up

What do you get when you combine mathematical ability with determination? You get Mu Alpha Theta.

It's an organization that recognizes academic achievement in mathematics.

Mu Alpha Theta members are in college prep math courses and are expected to maintain a B average or higher in these courses. Advised by Mrs. Katherine Wheeler, this group sponsors the Math Olympics, a challenging event held each year during Spring Quarter. — Jeremy Little

Beta

Lead by Serving

The Northeast Beta club was a new club created this year. Students with a 3.6 G.P.A. or higher were able to join this organization which honors those who excel in academics. Primarily a service club, Beta offers students the chance to do community work. Mrs. Yvonne Gee and Mrs. Judy Fultz are the club co-advisors. — Robert Stevenson.

Math Club

Math Team

Real Geniuses

This year's Math Team consisted of 31 young mathematical geniuses. Anyone interested in being a future member must meet the eligibility requirements and also have an interest in mathematics.

This year the Math Club also participated in the Math Honor Roll in the Fall-Winter quarter, the Awards Ceremony in May, and the Math Olympics in the Spring. The organization also brought back the candy cane sale during Christmas and the silk roses sale during Valentine's Day. Science Bowl Team

Young Einstein

The Science Bowl is an activity that gives students a chance to show their intelligence in the field of science. The students are chosen by their academic standards and interest in science. They are divided up in two teams, each having captains who prepare them for the upcoming subjects in science in which they compete with other schools. This year's team competed in the Georgia Southwestern Tournament. The advisors are Mrs. Gail Lewis and Mrs. Gwen Booker. Advisor Gail Lewis said, "We have had two trial competitions against Central. One of our members, Angel Ragins, who is captain, performed outstandingly."-Margo King.

Golden Star

Shines

The Golden Star newspaper staff is headed in a new direction, under the advisement of Mr. G. Lewis Wright. This is not a new thing for Mr. Wright, but he comments that it has been a while since he last worked on the newspaper. "The newspaper adds to school spirit and it has the respect of the student body and students are our main focus" says Mr. Wright. The newspaper has a motto that they continue to follow and it is very important to them. It is "This is exactly the phrase that sums up the newspaper and all it stands for." — Jessica Rudin

Salamagundi

Tradition Continues

Salmagundi is Northeast's literary magazine. The nineteen members of the 1990-91 staff work together in Journalism II learning about various types of creative writings and working to produce the magazine.

The staff accepts entries from the entire student body, selecting those pieces of writing and artwork which the editors and advisor consider most worthy of publication. The magazine is sold to students in the spring. Angel Ragins is editor-in-chief and Mrs. Georgann Reaves is the advisor. — Chato Solomon.

New Way of Talking

Something besides Spanish and French? We've got it! This is the first year Northeast has had a third foreign language-Latin.

There is only one dedicated teacher teaching this subject- Mrs. Carole Ford. When asked what made her decide to teach Latin, she replied, "I've always thought Latin was a good language to teach. It made the verbal part on the SAT easy for me."

Mrs. Ford says that Latin is not really harder or easier but just different. Junior Nicole Pryor signed up for the class because it was different. "Too many people were taking Spanish and French," she replied. "So if you want a change, this is it".

When the idea was suggested to Mr. Dillard by Mrs. Ford he jumped at the chance. Eventhough there are only twelve people in the class, those students seem to be very interested. Hopefully, over the next couple of years this class will increase in number. Best wishes to the success and advancement of this course.- Lasha Cofer/Lucinda Thompson.

Northeast High, dear Alma Mater,
Proudly standing tall;
Faithfully you have given,
Knowledge to all.

Northeast High, dear Alma Mater,
For'er your light shall shine;
Mem'ries of the red and gold,
Ever in our minds.

REFRAIN:

Always lead us,
Always watch us,
Never let us fail;
Northeast High, we love you so,
Loyalty prevails.

Northeast High, dear Alma Mater,
Three great schools of old;
Everlastingly united,
Into this mighty fold.

Northeast High, dear Alma Mater
You shall be our guide;
Years pass by, but in our heart,
Lies that Raider pride.

REFRAIN:

Always lead us,
Always watch us,
Never let us fail;

Started in 1974

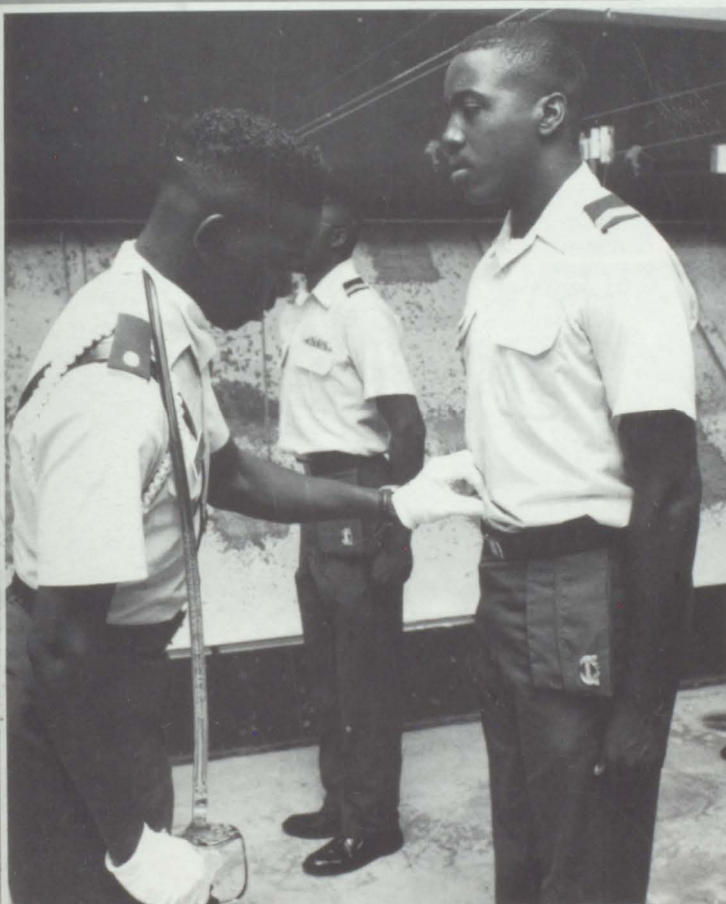

In 1974, Sgt. Gordon Williams started a program here at Northeast to offer students, who had the intentions of going into the service, an opportunity to become more knowledgeable about the Armed Forces. This program was called the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps, JROTC.

JROTC gives students a headstart on the armed forces. Whether it is the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, or any other Armed Forces, JROTC is a great place to start. JROTC also offers students who usually don't get a chance to "take command", that chance because at the beginning, all students start off at the same level. Depending on abilities, some students rank as high as the Cadet Battalion Commander, a position held this year by Andre Echols. The Battalion Commander is the highest and most honored rank a student can achieve in JROTC.-Kendall Jordan.

JROTC

Offers much

Students in the JROTC program get a chance to join different activities in the program besides just being in JROTC.

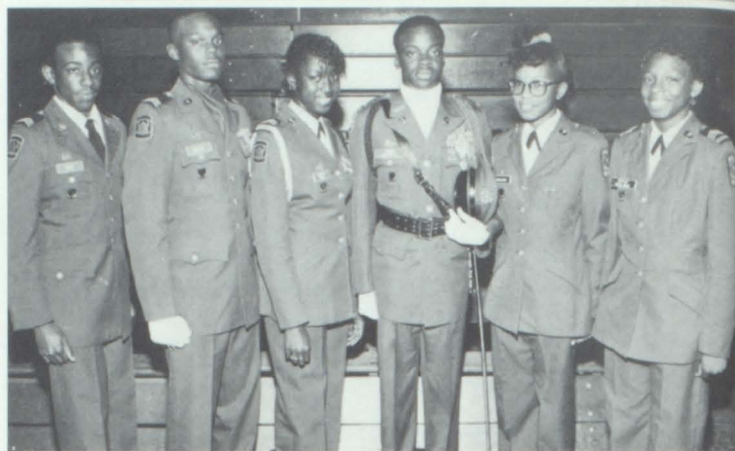

The Color Guard, which preforms at football games, is one of the many extra activities that JROTC offers. Others include the Drill Team, and the Rifle Team both competing against other teams.

JROTC students also get a chance to repel the repelling tower at Mercer University as well as the tower here at Northeast. -Kendall Jordan.

Coach's Corner

The following are just a few comments from members of the Varsity Football team concerning Coach Steve Edwards, the new head football coach.

"Every since coach Steve Edwards came, he has given us that extra spunk. He really pushed us when we couldn't push ourselves."-Arthur Nelson

"Coach Edwards was and will always be a blessing to the Northeast football team and the entire school."-Terrance Ellis

"He believed in us and that made us better. It also showed us we had talent."-Michael Womack

"Coach Edwards is a good coach. He's there when we really need him-football or not. He's like a father to all of us."-Michael Barron

So a grand applause to coach Edwards for his first season as head football coach of the Raiders. Thank you coach!-Tanya Singleton

Redding named MVP

Softball

The Raiderettes had 3-10 record this season. The attitude and non-stop spirit of the players not only helped to raise their confidence, but brighten up their outlook towards the future as well.

"The team played well," said Natasha Woodford. "When times got tough, our support for each other enabled us to forget about the losses that occurred."

Marice Redding was named MVP for her experience and defensive techniques on the field. Best offense also goes to Marice Redding for leading her team in batting which helped out the team a lot.

"The teams' attitudes and minds were set on the game and they were very dedicated to the sport," said Coach Judy Whitaker.

The best defensive player was Shavetta Morgan for her outstanding performances in the outfield.

Letitia Howard was named most improved and Rookie of the year because of her skills which were improved from the beginning of the season to the end of the season.

A winning season in. . .

Varsity Football

Many thought there was little hope to come from a history of defeats, loss after loss. With a last season record of 2-8, the formulated varsity football team, along with their new, outspoken coach, Steve Edwards, proved everyone wrong.

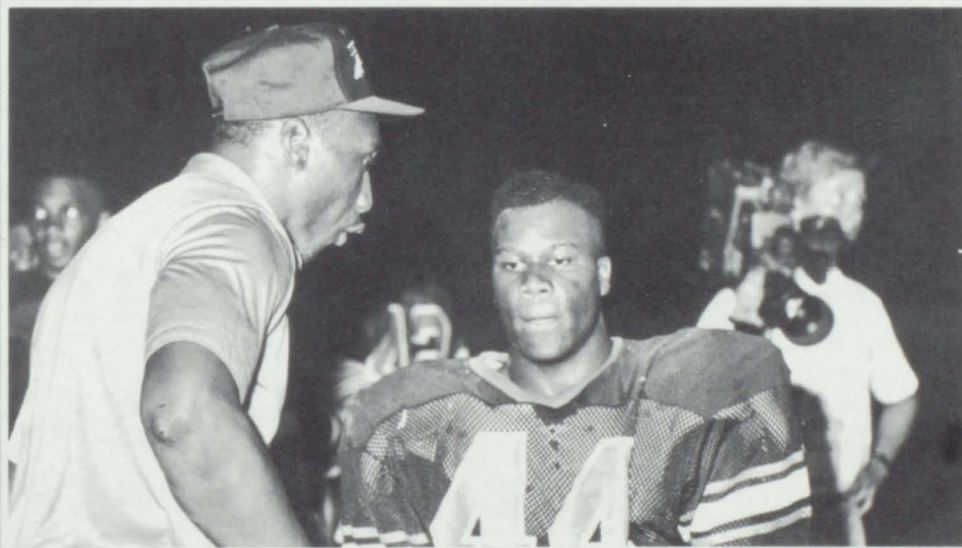

Opening the season, the Raiders travelled to a victorious 31-0 win over the Panthers. The Raiders and Raiderettes of Northeast probably didn't think much of the win because the Raiders have usually had consecutive wins over Therrell. But after a 39-0 win over the Warriors of Southeast, fans started going back on their bad thoughts.

If you attended every game, you could see that the optimism of the players was getting stronger and stronger but there were also some weak points. Things looked even better after a 44-6 win over the Central Chargers. Then came a low with the defeat of 2-0 from Lowndes county of Valdosta. The Raiders finally boosted their ability back when they closed the season with a 12-0 win over the Braves of Baldwin. But what made this season such a good one? "We had a number one winning season and we really haven't had one in eight years. This year the team really came together and played as a whole. Also the seniors took on the leadership role for a change," said Arthur Nelson.-Tanya Singelton

That Raiderett force in Girl's Basketball

Always a force to be reconed with, the Raderetts are not a team to be taken lightly in the G.H.S.A. 4-AAAA basketball.

Led by Natasha Woodford, and her great abilities to shoot and play exceptional defense, the Raiderettes looked good for the long road to the state championship.

A threat to the killer force, junior Alicia Wilson, contributes a great amount to the Raider force by pulling down rebounds and scoring many points.

At Southwest, the Raideretts beat Northside for the right to be sub-region champs and host for the region championship. -Chato Solomon

Natasha Woodford goes for two points over the Southwest defense.

Wrestling

The wrestlers of Northeast High School had an outstanding season. The Raiders were led by senior captain Carlos Braswell, whose seasonal record was 9-0. Following him was junior co-captain Kacy Clowers, Jeffrey Hodges, and Terrence Ellis, whose records were 7-2. The team is coached by Fred Persley and Kelly Derzi.

The team's record for the 1991 season was 7-6. This year's theme was known as “Stick 'em!” and that's exactly what the wrestling team did.- Tomekia Pertillo

The big, the bad, the bold- The red, the black, the gold Spirit makers

Who has the best all around school spirit here at Northeast? "The cheerleaders most definitely," responded sophomore Tracy Denerson. Tracy and the other nine girls on the squad, are the most spirited people around school.

But, what does it really mean to be a cheerleader? First year Arthalia Grey said, "To be a cheerleader means to express your athletic abilities, to have fun and to pep up the Raider fans. But mostly it means to show your school spirit."

Being a cheerleader seems to take a lot of practice and energy. For instance, cheerleaders make the banners for the football team to run through, and they also have to attend camp every summer. "Cheerleading camp is organized to give the real meaning of cheerleading. It also gives us a chance to learn new chants and cheers. You also learn how to keep a positive attitude," stated Chiquita Glover. Chiquita started off as an alternate, but she's now a full-time cheerleader. So see, if you really put your mind to it you can work your way up too!

When captain April Collins was asked what was her major duty, she said, "It is not telling them what to do, just making sure that their job is done."

So hey, hey, what 'cha gotta say? The cheerleaders always are super!-LaTanya Singleton

Just after everyone had started to adjust to the new administration from last year, they had yet another change to get use to. Mr. Willie Green was promoted from counselor to principal of the Mark Smith building.

"Mr. Dillard recommended me to the new position," Green said after the position had been vacant after Mrs. Doris Terry resigned at the end of last year.

Mr. Green has been counseling for 15 years. Even though he has stopped counseling professionally, he still feels he can help students on a personal basis.

"Most students are accustomed to coming to see me," added Green. "I am willing to help anyone who needs help."

When asked was it very difficult to get adjusted to his new position, Mr. Green said, "The adjustment went smoothly."-Lucinda Thompson/Lasha Cofer.

New faculty fits in well

There seemed to be a merry-go-round at Northeast this year as nine new teachers filled openings on the faculty.

There are new English teachers, new science teachers, a mankind teacher, new social studies teachers, and new math teachers.

When asked, Mr. Brooks, a mankind teacher, says, "I was both unprepared and excited about coming to Northeast. I enjoy working with the students. I think the students reacted well to having new teachers. It's going to take a while for everyone to adjust and get into a normal routine."

But wait, in addition to new teachers, there are also new supervisions. There are freshmen where sophomores used to be, sophomores where juniors used to be, and juniors where seniors used to be. Talk about total confusion!—see Northeast students.

When asked, Mr. Dillard says, "The change was made so the freshmen could feel 'wanted' and so they would not feel so 'isolated'."

Even the counselors have been changed. Mrs. Standard is no longer here. Mrs. Moore, who started out as an English teacher, is now the senior counselor. Mrs. Felder's office has been moved to the Mark Smith building, and Mr. Green is now the principal of the Mark Smith building.

After the first few weeks, students and staff got the hang of each other. After being here for about a month, things were soon back to the normal routine.—Titania Lucas Hop Along Cassidy! Carrying books from class to class to simply walking up the step is a big effort for a few elite Raiders around Northeast.

Senior Titania Lucas said, "in the beginning it was very hard getting from one class to another, but the big advantage is getting to leave class earlier than the other students".

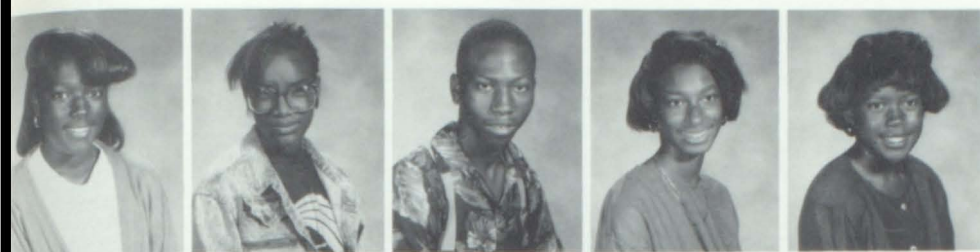

Dr. Davis, Pre-Tech teacher is also a member of the elite Raiders. Her wear of the foot shoe is the result of surgery, but she has her own story of what happened. "I was running through the woods of an island when I fell. A group of gorgeous men picked me up and carried me off".

Freshman Alfonso Crawford said, "it doesn't bother me at all, there has been no change in my lifestyle at all. I do hate that I hurt myself while wrestling someone smaller than I".

Titania Lucas misses not being able to drive, dance or skate. Dr. Davis misses shopping and Alfonso misses hanging out with the fellows.

Once rulers of Appling, now Freshmen of Northeast

Being a freshman, means getting use to a new environment. Before coming to Northeast you were looked up to by the seventh graders at Appling, but now that you are freshmen you're "at the bottom" again.

Freshman Taundra Powell said, "The hardest thing about being a freshman is getting to school on time. At Appling we didn't have to be at school until 9:00 It's hard waking up early in the morning to be here by 7:45."

Another change freshmen had to get use to was that high school is a lot bigger than middle school. Christopher Collins said, "IT's hard getting to class on time because the school is bigger than Appling."

Changing from middle school to high school can be difficult but I agree, being at Northeast is a whole lot better than being at Appling.-Amy White

Why me....

I'm Sooo Embarrassed

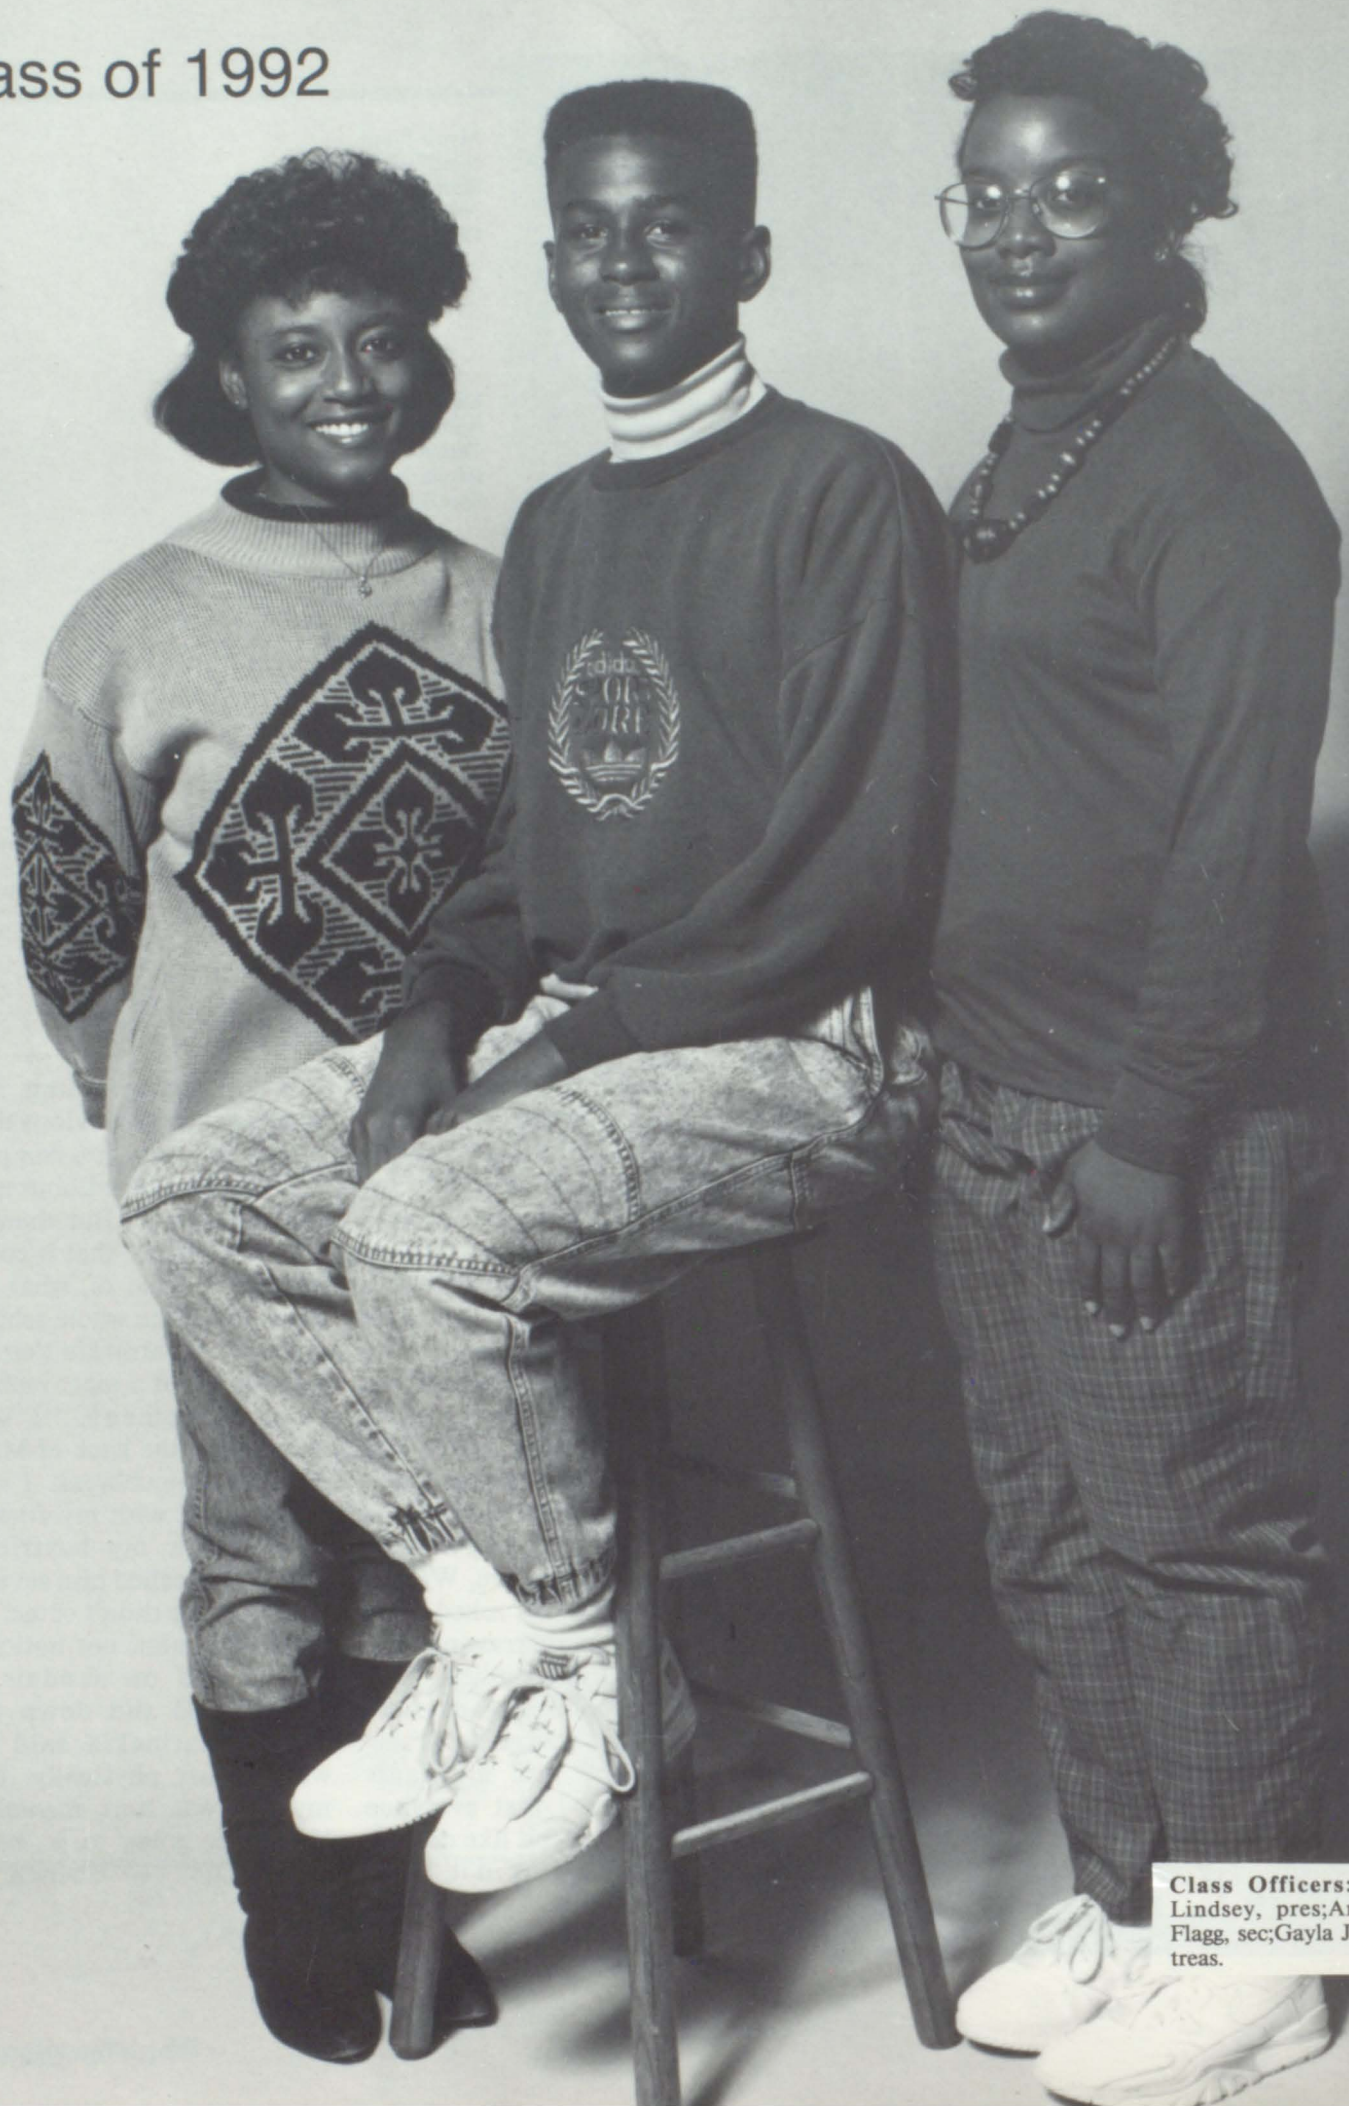

A most embarrassing moment is one of every high school student's worst nightmare. But unfortunately, almost everyone has experienced at least one. "Up on the hill" embarrassment is not something that people forget. You have to put up with the funny remarks and wisecracks made by your peers. At first it's not so funny, but as the incident gets older and older you have a tendency of laughing as well.

When sophomore, Wanike Shakespeare was asked what her most embarrassing moment was she replied, "My most embarrassing moment was when I was going to second period and my pants split. I knew that everyone had seen it. I felt like digging a hole and hiding in it, but it was still funny."

Some embarrassing moments are more obvious than others. If lucky, you can play it off and get by without anyone noticing it. But there is always a chance that it could happen in front of, what appears to be, the whole school.

Junior, Charmekia Pertillo was caught in a most embarrassing moment, "I was standing in the back of Mark Smith on lunchbreak. I was tripping out with my friends when I saw my boyfriend Shannon. I called him several times, but he didn't come. So I ran after him, not noticing that I had on sandals. I tripped and slid down the hill." Charmekia said "I wasn't hurt physically, but my ego was hurt mentally. I'm never going to go back there again!" — Chelsea D. May

We the class of '91 are a special class, untouched by any class before or after us. We have journeyed through our share of good times and bad times, but like the other classes we have made it through to reach the top of the line.

It seemed like it took forever to reach the greatest goal of our lives — becoming a "Senior". Becoming a SENIOR means having advantages that only the senior class can enjoy. Senior Joycelyn Stephens says "We are Super Sophisticated Seniors and there is nothing else like the class of '91."

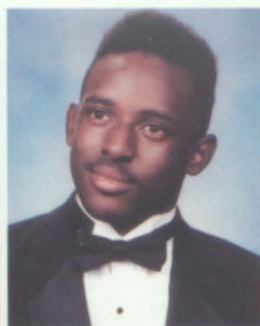

Looking back over the years, we have been picked on, laughed at and joked around just as much as the underclassmen, but we look back and laugh on those little games that were played on us. Those little games helped us to strive harder to achieve our goals.

Senior Kristi Fultz says the reason we are called "Can't Touch This" is because there is a lot of class spirit within the senior class." Also senior Harrison Flagg adds, "The class of '91 should use the theme 'Can't Touch This' because we are it." Underclassmen, your time will be here sooner than you think. Don't rush it. You still can't touch the class of '91.- Margo King.

Career choices

Many seniors look forward to walking down the aisle dressed in a red robe, but what happens after you return down the aisle? Do you go back to school or do you seve your country? Senior El Shunita Tripp says, "My first thoughts were to serve my country but when the conflict in Saudi Arabia arose, I changed my mind instantly. "I've been planning my future since ninth grade," says senior Carla Griffin.

While some seniors are preparing to enter into a higher level of learning, others are planning to relax and take life in stride.

Seniors Paula Johnson and Altonia Glover take a pause as they walk to their next class.

We've come a long way

Nothing can stop us!

We've been known as freshman, sophomores and juniors, but we have never been known better as we are right now, as seniors.

Being a senior has its ups and downs, but we always look at it as an up. The only down part about it is the money we spend while we are on top, but in the long run we don't mind.

One particular thing that happens when you become a senior, and it never fails, is senioritis. It's a disease that every senior gets. You become more aware of school and of your grades. At times you don't even want to come to school, but you have to make yourself, because you know it is time to graduate with your class.

Everyone believes that their class is the best, well everyone has their own opinions, but right now the best is here and that's the class of 1991.

Good luck seniors, you'll always be a step ahead of everyone else! -Jessica Rudin/Tammy McCoy.

Career Day 1991

Career Day was held Febuary 11, 1991 for the 1990-1991 school year. Nearly seventy-five different careers were represented.

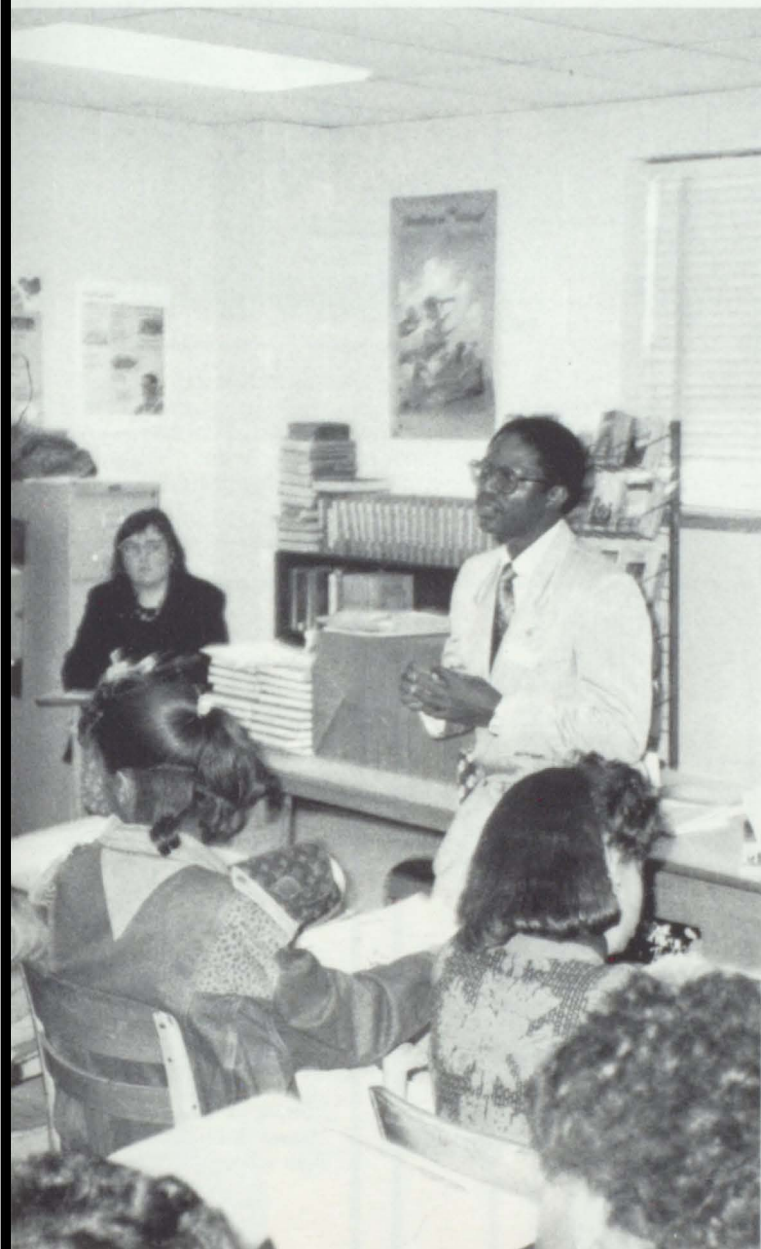

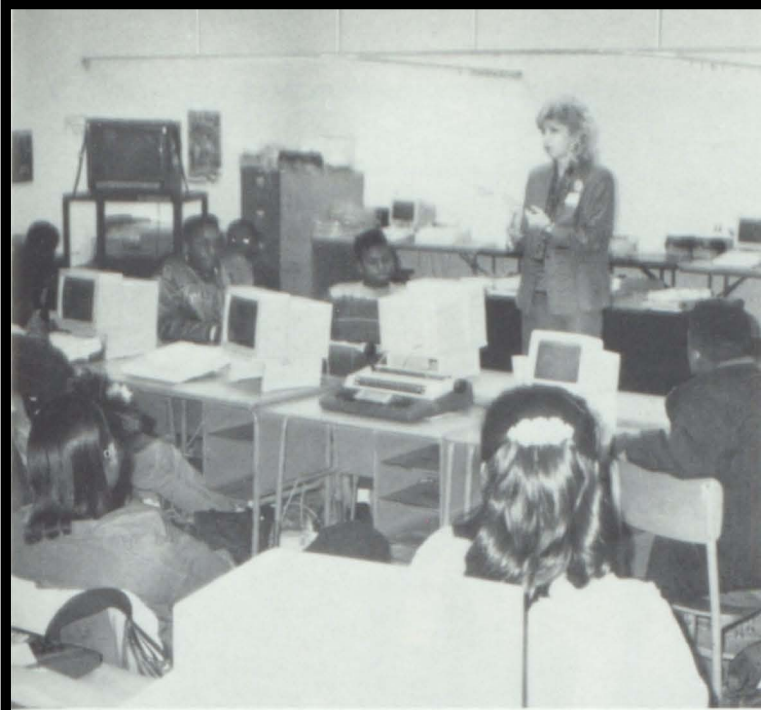

There were some real positive ideas and messages sent out to the students to give them a better understanding about the occupational world.

Asked, What did you learn from career day? Sophomore

Erica Woodford responded, "I liked my cosmetology class. I learned that cosmetology is very interesting because there are so many different ways you can enter the cosmetology field."

A program like this helps students realize that school, in general, and Northeast, in particular, is an integral part of the total community, not a separate institution existing in a vacuum.-Kendall Jordan

Volunteers speak with students on Career Day, February 11.

Mr. Sampson, located in Mrs. Suzanna Taylor's room, talks with the students on teaching education in public schools.

The students listen attentively as a speaker in the Lasseter Gym talks about her career.

Fifteen elite seniors named Senior Superlatives

Fifteen seniors named senior superlatives, the elite of the class of 1991/ To be selected as a senior superlative, a student must have at least a 3.5 GPA and a teachers' recommendation. "I'm glad to be a senior superlative; it lets me know that I've worked hard and persevered," said Michael Copeland.

"It feels great to have been selected, I am very proud of myself," said Anthony Guy. "I felt like I had achieved something that I will cherish for the rest of my life, and that all my hard work has paid off," said Joycelyn Stephens.

All fifteen superlatives plan to attend college. Willie McGirt plans to attend

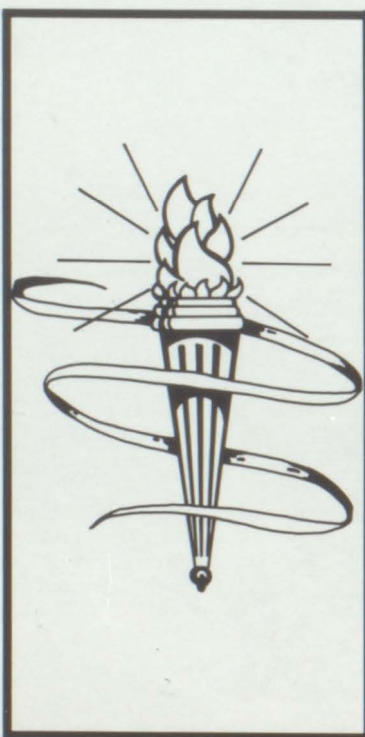

Georgia College and major in Bussiness Administration; Anthony Guy, South Carolina and major in biology and later a career in obsterics; Yolanda Latimore, Clark Atlanta University and major in pschology; Arthur Nelson, Georgia Tech and major in Textile or civil engineering, and Kristi Fultz, Spelman College in Atlanta and major in pre-med biology and later pursue a career in pediatics.

Congradulations to all sixteen superlatives for a job well done. The class of 1991 and faculty salute you for all of your hard work through your high school careers.- Kevin Perkins

What is your best advice for the upcoming Senior Superlatives?

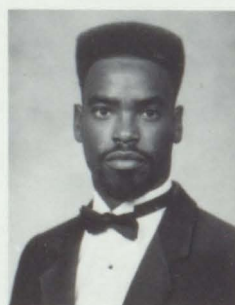

Juwanna
Anderson

"Feel your life with optimism, but to yourself always be true. Work hard to develop your weaknesses, and keep the struggle going forward."

Anthony
Guy

"Set high goals and strive toward them, never looking back."

Yolanda
Latimore

"Strive for achievement in all classes throughout all of your high school years."

Arthur
Nelson

"You don't need a car to take that journey afar. You don't need gas, but fuel for your mind. The ride you are about to take is a test of time."

Andre
Echols

"Always keep sight of your goals, but remember to have fun along the way."

Erica
Joyce

"Always be true to yourself and follow through on your dreams. If you reach for the stars you will find success."

Lesley
Wheeler

"Set your goals and strive to accomplish them. Remember to never give up and to always strive for success."

Jada
Wright

"Keep your eyes set on your goals. And remember all blessing come from the Lord."

Micheal
Copeland

"Do not let people take anything that you want away from you. Use downfalls as stepping stones and strive to do your best."

Jocelyn
Stephens

"Strive for the best and only the best. Put God first in your life and never give up on Him because He has all the answers. Plan for the future and always look ahead."

Kristi
Fultz

"The race is not always to the swift, but to the one who perseveres the most."

Angel
Ragins

"Nothing is impossible, if you truly work hard and always stay honest."

Be-Atrice
Sams

"You only get out of life what you put into it, therefore you should always strive to be the best you can be, never settle for less."

Willie
McGirt

"Pray and strive for the best."

Maurice
Dunham

"I believe that if you work hard, do your best, don't listen to people who try to pull you down, you'll do great in this world."

Golden Eagle Nominees

Eleven seniors chosen to represent Northeast as

The Golden Eagle is an award for high school seniors in the middle Georgia area for unselfish service to their schools and communities through their outstanding talents and abilities.

This year marks the 14th year for the Golden Eagle. Winners receive a five hundred dollar check along with a Golden Eagle trophy. Honorable mention winners are awarded a one hundred dollar check.

The twelve categories are: Art, Citizenship, Drama, English and Literature, Foreign Language, Industrial Vocational, Journalism, Mathematics, Music, Science, Social Science, and Social Studies.

Scholarship and service are essential qualifications for all nominees. The winner is the nominee whose record of achievement and service to his school and community best exemplifies the unselfish use of his or her talents and abilities to help others, in relations to their category.

This year Northeast produced some very talented people. These people have shown that they are the best in what ever category they are in.

This year's candidates are: Andre Echols, citizenship; Angel Ragins, English and Literature; Robert Stevenson, journalism; Willie McGirt, Industrial Vocational; Juwanna Anderson, mathematics, Michael Copeland, music; Be-Atrice Sams, science; Kristi Fultz, social studies, Jada Wright, social science; and Yolanda Latimore, foreign language.- Kendall Jordan.

Chato Solomon and Monica Mackey were voted wittiest. "I like to make people laugh," said Chato.

Erica Joyce and Omar Spradley were named friendliest. "Everyone should make friends," said Omar.

Most school spirit were April Collins and Willie Evans. April has been varsity cheerleader for four years.

Named most likely to succeed were Robert Stevenson and Angel Ragins. "I feel its an honor and a privilege for my classmates to choose me as most likely to succeed out of a class of more than two hundred," said Robert.

Who's Who in '91

Who's Who consists of nine categories that seniors have anticipated for from the first day they entered high school.

This years' winners were: Wykesia Adside/Edward Timley, most popular; Keitha Jones, Erica Joyce/Omar Spradley, friendliest; Be-Atrice Sams/ Anthony Guy, best all around and most athletic;

Monica Mackey/ Chato Solomon, wittiest; Crystal Wilder/ Alphonzo Dean, most talented; Angel Ragins/ Robert Stevenson, most likely to succeed; April Collins/ Willie Evans/Jeff Hodges, most school spirit; Andrell Taylor/Robert Williams/Cavanaugh Roberts; best dressed.-Joycelyn Stephens.

Cavanaugh Roberts, Andrell Taylor, and Robert Williams were named best dressed.

Alphonzo Dean and Crystal Wilder were named most talented.

Wykesia Adside and Edward Timley were voted most popular among the senior class.

Voted best all-around and most athletic by the senior class were Anthony Guy and Be-Atrice Sams.

Once you exit through the doors of Northeast, you enter into a community with non-school related interests.

A world of opportunities awaits outside school walls. Beginning with Sherman's March to the Sea, Macon has always been labeled an historical city.

From the Sidney Lanier Cottage to Coleman Hill, Macon is full of historical and natural beauty.

The city can boast of heroes in society such as Rodney M. Davis, Macon's only Medal of Honor winner.

Northeast is proud to be part of such a beautiful, historical city. There is no other place like Macon, Georgia.-Tomekia Perillo.

Senior Robert Stevenson, a Diplomat, explains to Mrs. Joyce Robinson, his advisor, about First Night Macon.

The beautiful Federal Court building stands amid downtown Macon.

The Macon Skyline, growing taller and more interesting every day, can be partially seen from Coleman Hill.

JROTC is one class that builds citizenship, stability, and self-respect to all students who dare to take the challenge

Seniors Daquesa Lee and Kristi Fultz prepare to leave school and head for their jobs. This is one thing that many students do to help them prepare for the work force.

Compliments of a Friend

I guess it's really true what they say about not being able to appreciate the important things in life until we get older.

When I was younger, I thought of you as just my sister, but now I realize you're much more than that . . .
You're a very special friend.

To my sister "Tani,"

I can't believe you're finally in the 12th grade. I never thought I'd see the day when my little sister "was all grown up." We've had our good times and definitely bad times, but somehow (through some miracle) we made it through without killing each other. Now that I'm here in Germany and you're there in Macon, Ga. we get along much better. (SMILE) But even though, we're miles apart, you will always hold a very special place in my heart.

Congratulations, best wishes, and good luck in all of your future endeavors.

Keep striving for the best and keep being yourself and you will go very far in life (if you can find your way out your room! SMILE!).

P.S. Keep the faith & trust in the Lord!

Love Always,

Landry V. Lucas

"Big Brother"

Kristi,

We have watched you grow and are very proud of the things you have achieved. Graduating from high school is a major achievement and we applaud you in this effort.

You have been an ideal daughter and we love you for it. As you begin another phase of your life, never forget those things we taught you. Remember, that person who fails to do his best, fails himself.

We love you very much and will always be here for you.

"Don't Quit"

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're mudging
seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down
a bit . . .
Rest if you must, but don't you quit.
Life is always full of twists
and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a fellow turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out.
Don't give up through the path
seems slow . . .
You may succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man;
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured
the victor's cup;
And he learned too late when the sun goes down,
How close he was to the golden crown.
Success is failure turned inside out,
the silver tint of the clouds
of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are;
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit,
It's when things seem worst that you
MUSTN'T QUIT!

Congratulations —

To my "Cinderella" (Jessica Rudin) whom if she keeps this poem in her heart and mind she will always succeed in whatever she does.
P.S. Tamala (Tammy McCoy) you remember this, too!

Love,

*The Lord made you an instrument of your peace.
Where there was hatred, he let you sow love;
Where there was doubt, he gave you faith;
Where there was despair, he gave you hope;
Where there was darkness, he gave you light;
And where there was sadness, he gave you joy.*

For these blessings
We would like to say
We love you

*Where Will
You
Spend Eternity?*

Where Will YOU Spend Eternity?
I know the lies that are spread by the devil: "Nobody knows where he is going"; "After you're dead, you're done"; "There is no hell, no God, no hereafter."

Now read what God has said about eternity for the saved ones:

Job said, "I know that my Redeemer liveth and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth; and though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God, whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another . . ." (Job 19:25-27).

Christ said, "I go and prepare a place for you. I will come again, and receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:2-3).

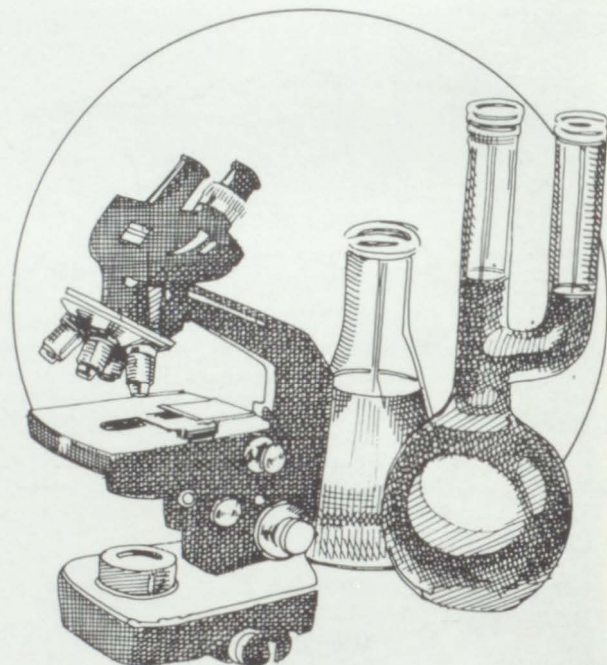

I will again ask the question, "Where Will You Spend Eternity?" Will it be in Heaven or in Hell? If you can't say "Heaven"; then say this prayer. "Lord, I am a sinner and I want to receive Jesus Christ as my Savior so that I can spend eternity with Him." You must mean that prayer with all of your heart and God will save you. "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13).

Valhalla says good-bye to The Chief

Being the Editor of the Valhalla for the past two years has been the most difficult, time consuming, pleasure that I have ever had.

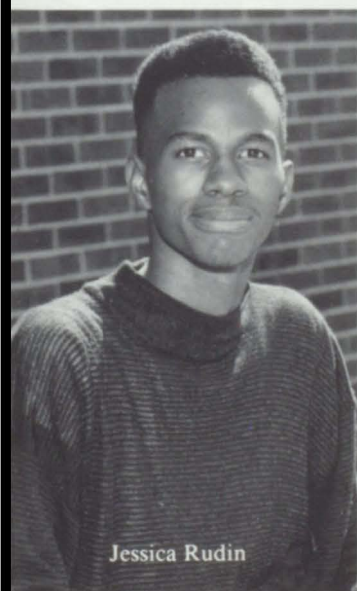

Those unforgettable memories from this year will always remain with me. I loved every minute of it even the deadlines, yes those deadlines.

I would like to thank Mrs. Gwendolyn Booker, Mr. John Simmons, Mr. Lewis Wright, Mrs. Linda Grynkewich, Mrs. Carole Ford, and special thanks to Coach Steve Edwards for putting up with the school's yearbook editor also being one of their students. I would also like to thank the entire Northeast family for all of their support.

To my staff I would like to also say thank you. Each one of you played a big part in the production of the book. Forget all those times when you thought that I was the most evil person in the world, just look at this book and you'll see that together we were only the best staff.

As I end my last three years on the staff I would like to say that this year truly was Like Nothing Else.-Robert Stevenson, Editor.

Row 3: Lucinda Thompson, Robert Williams, Lasha Cofer, Judy Fultz, Chelsea May, Kevin Perkins, Tanya Singleton.

Putting together a yearbook is a lot of hard work, but this staff knows exactly how to make it fun. Every once in a while, mostly after deadlines, we just let it all hang out because we know that being on the yearbook staff is Like Nothing Else.

Like Nothing Else

And now its all over; the year has ended. For many of us, being seniors, this was just the beginning of what was fast becoming an ever-expanding intellectual horizon.

We prepared for four years under the helm of the Northeast legacy, and now it's time to go out into the world.

To many, June 6, 1991 may mark the end of our high school years; yet we know that as Northeast graduates, America's Congressmen, lawyers, doctors and journalists of tomorrow, the spirit of Northeast will forever live in our hearts.

As we prepare to leave Northeast the words of the alma mater will forever be in our minds.

"Always lead us, always watch us, never let us fail; Northeast High we love you so, loyalty prevails."

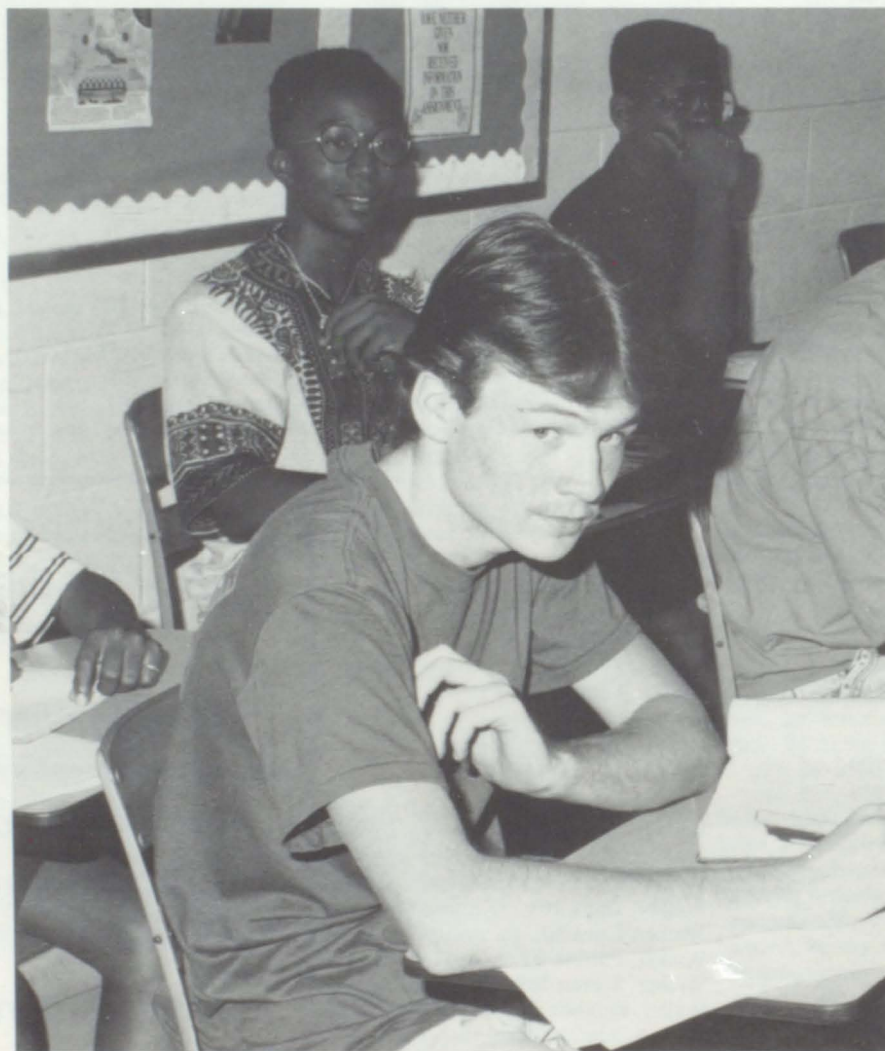

Northeast, you have given us a future like no other school can, because truly you're

No other place. -Robert Stevenson

Freshman Cristina Massey cuts out an article about the war in the gulf for her history class.

Steve Johnson takes time out from his history class to pose for the camera.

Students walk for the last time under the Raider Country sign in the Lasseter building.

As the result of the war in the gulf, trees of peace, hope and prayer sprung up all over campus in hopes that peace from prayer will end the war.

Rejoicing at the end graduation and ready for the new challenges ahead.
